

Highlights from the Mayor

As we continue on our journey through the last weeks of 2020, COVID -19 remains to be the topic of discussion in all aspects of life. Its affected everything from how we get our groceries to how we do business and now it affects more than ever how we socialize and visit with our families. As the Christmas season quickly approaches, I for one hope that our residents are able to share the season in some capacity with the ones they love even if it's virtually.

I am so proud of our community members that have heard the desperate call from our Chief Medical officer and Alberta Government and continue to follow the restrictions that are in place. After all, they are there so that we can eventually get back to way of life we were all accustomed to. If you have been fortunate enough to not have COVID -19 affect your everyday life and occupy your thoughts, I encourage you to consider those that have. Understanding, compassion and patience are all qualities we need to possess at this time. Respect for one another is something that can be easily taken for granted, especially in these times of differing opinions and mandatory restrictions. Although I can understand where people's frustrations may come from, respecting what has been put in place for the good of our community will help us get through this pandemic together.

Thank you to all who took time out their day to take part in our tele-town halls that we have featured in the past month. We were pleased with the feedback we got at our last tele townhall discussion on the proposed waste bin program. Council certainly has much to consider but we hope to come to a conclusion soon. At this writing we are just heading into our last townhall of the year with a discussion tonight about our Strategic Plan. We are looking forward to an engaged discussion with residents. Council and administration want to make sure that our residents and business owners get a voice in how the Town of St. Paul moves forward, pandemic or not.

Another exciting announcement I am proud to make is that Town administration was successful in receiving provincial funding for the base paving of our 57th street road project! This has been a long time in the making and I thank all of you that have patiently waited for this project to move forward.

Consider your business community this holiday season and shop local whenever possible. Remember it isn't those big box stores that support our local young athletes or our local charities.

Council and myself want to wish you all a very Merry holiday season and look forward to a Happy New Year, and at some point hopefully COVID free!!

All the best,
Maureen Miller, Mayor
